The Beginning of a New Journey
Ascension Community Development Update

By Reverend Dennis, Project Facilitator - May 2021

Dear Family of Light,

I want to thank you for subscribing to the Ascension Community Newsletter. This is the first edition that will bring you up to date on the current developments of our Ascension Community. Some of you were added to the mailing list as a courtesy, and if you would rather not receive it, just simply unsubscribe at the bottom of the newsletter.

Much has transpired since we began this project on March 17th, and you can read about those details at the webpage created for the project. If you haven't already familiarized yourself with the webpage, simply click on The Great Ascension image above, and as fast as light travels, it will take you there.

In this edition, I will speak about the developments I have been working on in the past 4 weeks of April. First, I want to introduce Team Spirit as they would like to be known. They are our Higher Selves, Archangel Michael, Mother Earth, and Saint Germain, and this collective has lovingly agreed to be the spiritual guidance for this project. I ask you to tune into their loving presence, commune with them, and let yourselves become one with them. They already know who you are, so why not say hello!

Team Spirit - Guidance Collective for this Project

Our Higher Selves, Archangel Michael, Mother Earth, Saint Germain

Since I am a newbie at this, I decided to familiarize myself with the process of forming an intentional community. Towards this goal, I have taken several online classes from the Fellowship of Intentional Communities (IC.org) - a group that has years of experience supporting the formation and existence of intentional communities. They have an ongoing series of online courses that are either free or low-cost. I recommend that you check them out, and see what interests you.

I also posted an advertisement about the formation of our community on FIC in the category: Forming Communities: Ascension-Minded Co-Creators Wanted for Ascension Community.

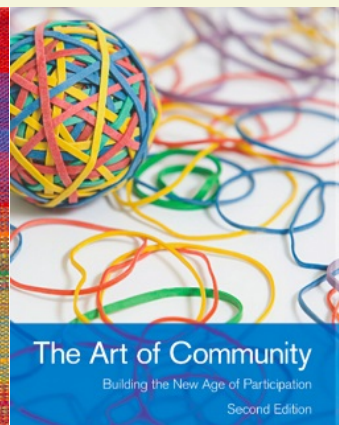

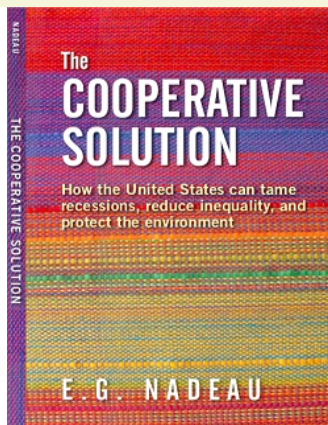

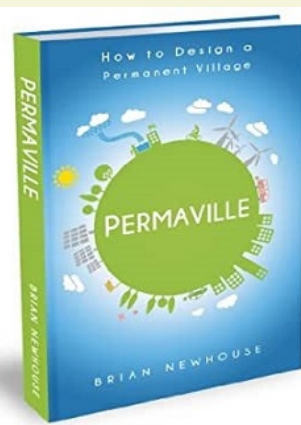

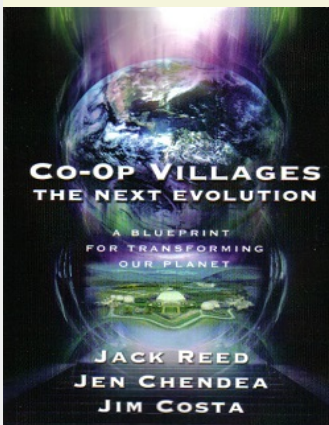

So far, my online studies with FIC have included:

- ***Joining an Intentional Community*** Consent Decision Making ***
- ***Community Connect Networking Session***
- And, a 5-week course starting April 21st:
- *** Legal Basics for Forming Communities ***

In the month of May, I have scheduled myself for:

- *** Intro to Community Land Trusts ***
- *** How To Sustain an Intentional Community ***
- *** Analyzing and Shifting the Uncomfortable Power Dynamics in Community ***
- *** A Compassionate Approach To Conflict ***

I also download some free eBooks which I am attempting to read in my "copious" free time (LOL)!!! Just click on the images below to access them.

Let's Stay in the FLOW OF FUN!!!

It goes without saying that this is a HUGE and very challenging project for all of us involved. There's going to be a lot of putting together. So, I'm asking all of you who resonate with this project to chip in and help out to make it successful. Because I can't do it all myself. So I suggest we take it slow and easy, because there is a lot to learn and a lot to absorb and to embrace, and it's easy to get burned out, and we have enough stress in our lives at this time of great transition that we don't need to add extra stress from this project. So, let's have FUN with this project! Let's stay in the FLOW OF FUN!!!

Need Your Help Finding Land with a High Energy Vortex in a Temperate Climate Zone

A primary intention for this project is to find suitable land to establish our community in a temperate climate zone - which Team Spirit has advised us is to be located on land that emits a high energy vortex, or as some might call it "sacred land."

Temperate climate to me means the typical kind of weather that the Sunbelt States enjoy - with no snow! For example, here in San Diego, California, it doesn't snow, but it gets in the 40's degrees Fahrenheit in the winter and usually high 90's F in the summer, with some days over 100°F.

Snow is not a factor that many of us want to deal with, and I've never lived in snow, except for a couple years during my military service in South Korea and Germany. Oh, yes, I lived in Nebraska until I was age seven, then my parents moved to Southern California. I don't like shoveling snow, and don't like the icy cold freezing temperatures.

Choosing suitable land with a high energy vortex will take more space to explain than what we have here today. This might be an ongoing aspect for awhile, to be continued in future newsletters.

How much land do we need? Well, that all depends on how many ascension minded-souls we have to start the community. My guess is we start small and grow. Maybe 15-20 acres with land available to grow upwards to 150-200 acres or more. Ultimately, we might reach the size of some already established communities of 100 people or more that live on 300 acres or more. Then again, miracles happen. So I don't have a crystal ball to tell the future, but I believe the details will be worked out as we go, and we can expect some magical things to happen along the way.

In the meantime, here are some of my thoughts:

Take a look at the sunbelt states: California, Hawaii, Nevada, Arizona, New Mexico, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina, and Florida. What state would you like to live in? There are pros and cons for each state.

California real estate is expensive, just about anywhere in the state, and its business policies might not be in our favor. Hawaii land is very limited (since it is a series of islands), and more expensive than California, however the energy there is prime, very profound, very healing.

In my research, I learned that even after 76 years, the first 1945 atomic bomb test site at Alamogordo (near White Sands National Park) is still radioactive for miles around, and people in that area throughout the decades have died from cancer. So, for me, New Mexico is out, even though I'm told it has a lot of high energy vortex sites.

Just today, I received a news report from Robert F. Kennedy, Jr. website that says a proposed $12 Billion chemical plant plans to be built in Louisiana's St. James Parish, elevating residents' risk of cancer, asthma and other serious diseases in what's known as "Cancer Alley" - an area along the Mississippi River between Baton Rouge and New Orleans, which contains numerous industrial plants. Locations in this area with clusters of cancer patients have been covered by the news media, leading to the "Cancer Alley" moniker. So, Louisiana doesn't feel safe to me.

I have not yet researched the states of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, South Carolina and Florida. I understand the first three of these states are hot & humid in the summer. I was stationed at U.S. Army Fort Gordon Signal School near Augusta, Georgia for 6 months (May-October 1967), and I would agree with this assessment.

I'm also researching how we can obtain land from a Community Land Trust.

I lived in Phoenix, Arizona for 3 years and do not prefer the desert. However, not all areas in Arizona are desert. I've been exploring the I-19 corridor south of Tucson, between Green Valley (Pima County) to Tumacacori-Carmen (Santa Cruz County), which currently has a lot of property for sale. These areas have no snow, elevation between 3000 to 3200 feet, are lush with trees, have quiet environments, streams and rivers run through these areas, and cost of living ranges between 15% lower to 4% higher than the U.S. average. But, I don't know of any high energy vortexes in these land areas. Do any of you?

However, the downside to this entire area is the climate: temperatures range from 32°F in the winter to 99°F in the summer. So, the question in my mind is: what kind of housing must we have to live comfortably in these areas? Shall we employ a dome covering over our community?

In 1960, architects Buckminster Fuller and Shoji Sactao proposed a 3-kilometer-diameter geodesic dome over midtown Manhattan to save on heating and cooling. It was never built, but it sure grabbed the newspaper headlines. Today, there are small projects using this idea, using a dome over a home for various advantages. So, it's not altogether irrational to consider the benefits of this progressive system.

Pima County and Santa Cruz County border each other. The three largest occupations in Pima County are retail trade, manufacturing and construction. The three largest occupations in Santa Cruz County are in the retail trade, educational services, and wholesale trade.

I use the website BestPlaces.net to get the information I've given you on these land and town locations. I assume the information is fairly accurate, I hope! LOL.

What insects and reptiles and animals are you willing to live with? Personally, I have zero tolerance for cockroaches, mosquitos, wasps, rattlesnakes, alligators and scorpions. Guess I still have past lives memories of not-so-favorable encounters with these criters. Guess I got some healing to do; to come into oneness with these creatures who are sacred sentient beings created from the very essence of love and light as you and me.

So these are some of my thoughts. You might ask where is the money going to come from to purchase land? I believe Saint Germain of our Team Spirit will see to that. He has been the foremost voice on trust monies associated with NESARA and the currency revaluation. I believe the money will be available to us when we find the right piece of land. Or, it may be given to us free-of-charge through our nonprofit church that Team Spirit has advised us to create. Miracles do happen!

There is a host of factors to take into account when looking at a piece of land. Another factor we need to consider is: will the county the land is located in, allow an intentional community to be built? We must meet county zoning laws and building code laws. Did you know that some states and counties don't have building codes? You can do an internet search to find out more.

Here's an idea! What IF we all came together on this aspect, and we all took part in and collaborated on finding a suitable piece of land? I've given you some factors to consider in this report that you can use when reseaching land and locality opportunities. Send your findings to me, and I'll share them in future reports. We can consider these findings, and come to a collective consensus about our thoughts and feelings. How's that sound?

Remember Our 5D Life!

It's easy to get caught up in 3D activities and to forget our 5D life, and this is a major consideration we will have to focus on: to balance our 3D activities with our 5D life. Because what we are attempting to accomplish is a big challenge. But with Team Spirit and Prime Creator Source and the Guidance and Angel Realms on our side, we can move mountains! So, let's remember to meditate often, keep raising our vibrations, be of service to others without getting burned out, and whatever else you consider to give you fun and joy in your life.

Count Your Blessings To Raise Your Vibration
The 9D Arcturian Council channeled by Daniel Scranton

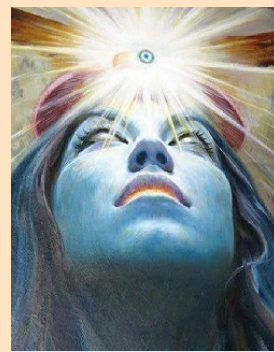

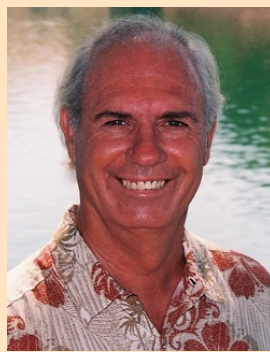

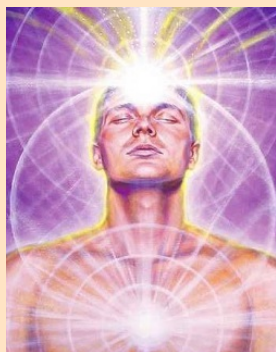

One of our favorite spiritual practices when we were in physical form in the Arcturian star system was to count our blessings. We would feel and express genuine, sincere gratitude, appreciation, thankfulness, for everything that we could, and it is a beautiful feeling to have inside of you when you can look around and look for something that is right in your life or something that is right in the world. You automatically raise your vibration, and guess what? When you raise your vibration, you are more open to receiving more of what you will appreciate.

It takes a little bit of effort to do this because you are often striving for something that you don't have, something that is either just out of reach or feels very far from where you currently are. And so, we invite you to employ this Arcturian trick – appreciate the fact that what you desire but do not have even exists in the first place. The fact that something or someone or some experience exists should bring you joy if it is something that you desire. If it didn't exist, then you might really have something to grip about.

But everything exists, and everything is a part of you, and that's the other trick you can employ at any time. Remember that if it is out there in the physical realm, where you can experience it physically, then it is also inside of you. And the best thing that you could do for yourself as a spiritual practice would be to feel around inside of your very own body, because your very own body has so much to show you and to give you.
