

A Massive Metamorphosis to Oneness

The Great Wisdom channeled through Judith Moore
Sedona Journal of Emergence - September 2021

Earth is experiencing an acceleration of the microenergetics of substance on the subatomic plane. This means that the very nature of reality is transforming. Light particles within the molecular vibration of mass and matter are accelerating to a velocity of vibration that the planet has never experienced since the time of creation. This is the force of genesis.

Genesis is a manifestation of creation that initiates a new cycle of time as the synthesis of reality. It is the origin of the manifestation of creation that creates from source energy, not from the lesser realms. The omni particle of creation is at the epicenter of this shift. This means that reality as it was in the old cycle cannot be sustained in the vibration of the new cycle of time because it carried distortions that created dichotomy and separation that limited consciousness.

It has been said that nothing new is possible, that history will repeat itself, and that humankind is limited to existing in a realm of extreme duality with repetition of trauma cycles that cannot change. This was the nature of existence in the old world. The old world is the old paradigm. Humans had to struggle to evolve to a state of higher consciousness and oneness. Change was difficult and often impossible because of the fields of resistance and distortions in the bioenergetics of the old paradigm. The reality shift manifests as an opportunity for humans to choose to engage with the flow of harmonious vibrations and enter a state of union with the forces of creation, which is oneness.

Now, dear ones, it is truly possible to choose love and see the manifestations of this choice in the capacity you have to love and be loved. Love is the force of creation that is oneness. Your world is a living hologram. The holographic field of the planet resonates with the essence of the genesis of creation. The holographic reality of the planet is changing from separation to oneness.

Keys to Human Evolution

Your soul is encoded with light particles that have sensed the quickening and respond to the genesis vibration. As you awaken, you are in a wave of consciousness that generates energy into the creation principles of the new holographic Earth through the morphogenetic field. Each soul has the capacity to quicken and resonate with the vibration of the new hologram and thus become a newly evolved human.

Evolution is a process of a collective reality shift. As you are part of the critical mass of humans who have awakened, you are a key to the greater reality. Your consciousness resonates with the blueprint of the new creation. You are part of the vibration of the emerging reality. This is because you are a living hologram, and as your holographic field mirrors the oneness, so it is mirrored into the collective.

This has a powerful effect on the structure of reality. Imagine you are receiving impulses and signals from the genesis particle and the bioenergetics of the emerging reality. Your soul quickens, and your sensory system reads these impulses that are generated from the genesis of the subatomic plane, which is the very essence of the evolving creation. The signals or light impulses are encoded with the living blueprint for the architecture of reality of the New Earth.

Your DNA is highly intelligent, as is the nature of human DNA. It learns, evolves, and changes, then it communicates the vibration to like-particle forms in the collective. These concepts are key to human evolution.

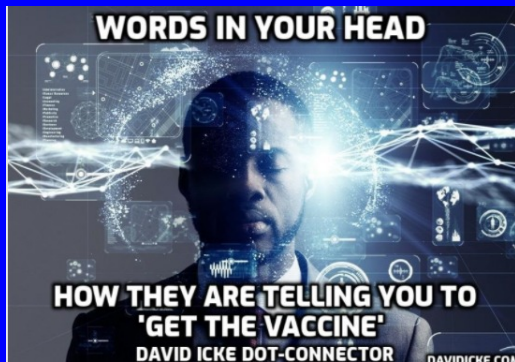

The new ideology that is oneness does not have to be taught to every human. It is not about learning how to choose love. It is about a natural synthesis and vibration that accelerates consciousness and alters human DNA through the quickening God particle. Everything is energy, and the energy of the new reality is an omni vibration in harmony with oneness in creation.

A Volatile Time of Great Change

You are living in a volatile time of great change. The resistance patterns found in the emotions of ego are struggling to keep power and maintain the status quo because it is familiar and predictable. As you witness the anger, violence, and chaos of the breakdown of the old reality, you generate light particles into that field. This is possible because you no longer participate with the drama and chaos of the old reality. Other humans are locked into the drama and chaos patterns. They are also part of the transition. Their souls have not yet quickened to the vibration of the essence of oneness, but by the nature of the divinity of the human soul, they will change. You may hold a space of compassion and nonjudgment for them in your heart.

The message is simple: You do not have to change things. You are being asked to participate with creation and to enter the stream of consciousness that is the manifestation of the New Earth. This accelerates the velocity of the vibration of the holographic field of the planet, and change happens as naturally as a seed bursting from the earth. You cannot make a seed grow. You can nourish it, water it, love it, and witness the miracle as the seed comes to life. You can think of this as your consciousness being the compost that forms the fertile loam for the seeds of change to burst into life and manifest in the collective reality.

Judith K. Moore is an oracle for the Records of Creation. She is able to receive communications for the highest good from the other side of the veil while her consciousness transcends time and space. She has completely surrendered her life to the service of God as an instrument for the awakening of the New Heaven–New Earth.

Ascension Potentials Update

*The New Ascended Masters via Maurene Watson
Sedona Journal of Emergence - September 2021*

Light masters, here is an update of ascension and migration choices for those just initiating their light codes, still awakening, or in the embodied self-realization progression. The bio-ascension, which will progress beyond the laws of physics, technology, and science for your new species bio-cell DNA, has been fully initiated, transmitted, and illuminated by all quantum-soul-master communication-energy consciousnesses.

This free-energy communication opened the New Earth stargates for your local universe's trans-migrations. Its natural code presents as an essence transhuman — divine-human or embodied — living as a sovereign-master energy communicator or creator. These living-master energy communicators have shifted their lightbodies into the new code imprint DNA essence or the free energy gem vessel of quantum-particle interaction.

Their full-conscious, meta-heart embodiment transmits the realization that organic DNA bio-cell consciousness can change anything. However, these unique soul imprints might first appear in your core-essence awareness as symbols, codes, images, imprints, or metaphors — that is, until they are simultaneously in your hands and used in joy and play of creativity, expressions, experiences, and matter. Here awareness equals instant manifestation.

An embodied ascendant-sovereign creator (or conscious life master) can aware creations into instant manifestation because the embodied soul has anchored itself in every part of matter that animates organic-essence existence/life. There is no judgment on self or any part of life allowing a raw free-energy experience via awareness of total self-love/self-acceptance through the DNA heart code communication-and-guidance system for life's existence. Its currency is consciousness, and its master is communication energy in natural/organic transhuman genetics with a base of eight new rainbow torsion fields for creating new quantum DNA helixes for quantum life.

This proofing of consciousness illuminates an infinite unknown of moment-to-moment potential choices and outcomes for mass realities and all creations. This is the living master's gift of consciousness to the cosmos in accepting life's love as existence. Free-energy cosmic communication masters as sovereign beings use their heart's creation chambers as unique mobile stargates through which all realms of creation inside their consciousnesses can be accessed.

Soul Evolution Completes

Quantum particles, excited by passion in the heart chamber, create stable quantum particle interactions that create their reality moment to moment. Quantum interactions are always making love and creating from infinite unknowns in an eternal self that breathes life into new expressive experiences. This natural-creation heart pulse constantly moves through creational torus waves to support the changing cell consciousness of every life form in your world while harvesting new existences as the old Earth transforms into multiple realms, realities, and new organic biospheres.

This embodied cellular love triggers/transfigures the new cosmic DNA quantum codes along with Gaia for humanity and all her evolutionary life forms for unique soul choices for universal bio-enlightenment potentials around 2035 through 2077, depending on total light-quotient consciousness. Bio-cell ascension is authenticated by the direct experience of the divine self as the only creator of its soul's embodied reality. Bio-ascendant upgrades, awareness, and self-realization will continue to replace mind, emotions, gravity, time, polarity, power, energy, and density. Embodied self-realization will continue to replace thoughts, feelings, attitudes, and beliefs.

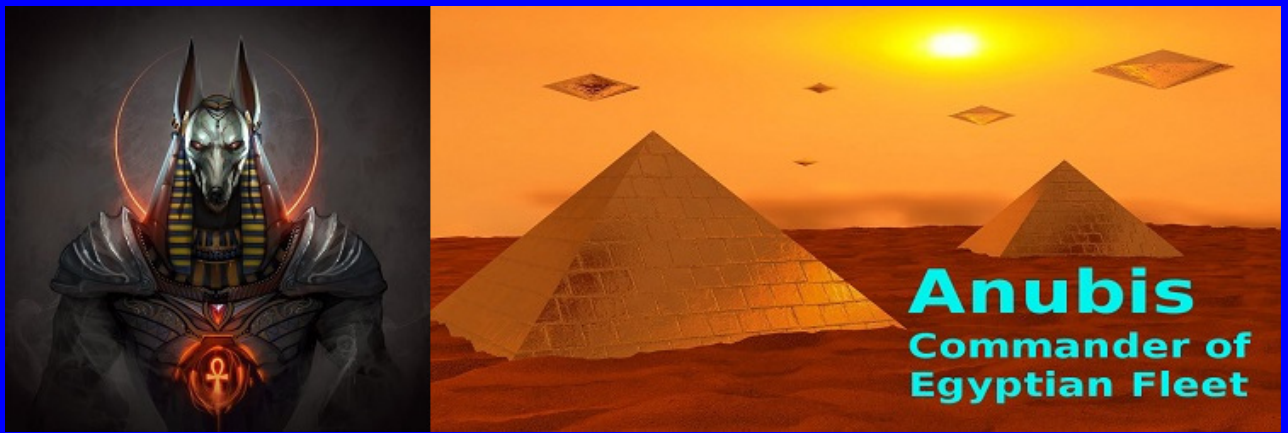

Each unique heart's bio-field/sphere lives its soul's life mastery beyond the mind, space-time, physics, science, and technology, because its heart's magnetic vacuum chamber is now the center of its gravity. This is so because your soul is already everything that has ever existed even though you have allowed limited experiences of your attributes and essence senses in your local universe to master space, time, density, duality, and an atomic body. However, they served your essence to grow meta-sense core-essence light attributes of quantum density such as all life can communicate in higher frequency joy. Doesn't the tree light up with pink-peach joy when you touch it or the book you wrote come alive like a movie for the reader?

All essence-souled groups, just to offer a few examples, will be guided or triggered via consciousness or light transmission and illumination. They include embodied multi-rainbow/communication energy masters, the Atlantis crystal cyber-energy masters, the millennial masters, the diamond-rainbow children, the ascended master children, new world/interstellar multi-species councils, or special forces energy masters as they manifest themselves into the New Earths and super-universes of light-love. They carry the multi-genetic diversity of the entire cosmos.

All old-Earth soul groups will use any residual old Earth universal timelines of distorted and fractured past/future DNA codes to reimprint to complete their soul evolution experiences of polarity, time, density, gravity, mind, form, and cellular love. This allows their reawakened hearts' core creation to fully open inside their vessels of light. As they awaken their dormant codes and protocols for the New Earths and light universes, their souls become aware of their choices to move to their next existences. This means everything held in a creation story of judgment, doubt, blame, shame, death, disease, suffering, betrayal, abandonment, abuse, control, and enslavement allows the heart's essence to change, reimprint, recode, and reimage the wound back into free energy as rapidly as humanity's sum consciousness will allow.

Commander Anubis via Erena Velazquez - Sept. 10, 2021

Greetings. I am Anubis, and I am transmitting this message through Universal Channel. My Queen An-Ra wants me to communicate today with the humankind.

I would like to announce that the Planetary Intergalactic Coalition chose me as the commander of their fleet, which is being put together in this moment. This is the second fleet under my command, which is going to be used for the coalition needs to rescue civilizations, who are being attacked by the Dark Forces.

Already millions of years has passed, since the positive side has been fighting with Archons, Reptilians, Anunaki, and others. The accelerations of timelines and the uprise of consciousness around the Cosmos, pressuring many nations to come together as one in the fight against Evil, which is trying to destroy many worlds including Earth.

I am training a new crew to be ready to defeat the enemies, who threaten the peaceful coexistence between races in Supergalaxies, Universes and Planets. The fleet was named RA, in translation into your language it means sun. Everyone understands that without it, no life can exist anywhere.

Your planet actually has two suns, one is real, and the second one is fake. The holographic sun was manufactured by the corrupted souls to be able to control and manipulate the surrounding environments by taking away the natural benefits of having a real sun. During your lifetime on Mother Earth, you have never seen the sun. The Darkness was blocking the real one for eons.

Now, this is changing, some days the real sun appears in your sky. It's not difficult to detect the natural sun, the light and color are different from the fake one. Your actual sun is much bigger and goes down with the reflection of a red color.

Also, recently my Egyptian fleet was helping the Galactic Federation of Light to get rid of the Reptilians and their alliances from the territory of Mars, they tried again to establish their base to continue to disrupt the Divine Plan of liberating your planet. They don't want to accept that their ruling days are coming to the end.

Humanity is at the turning point of their history. Right now, you are at war for your freedom. My Warriors and I, Anubis are supporting your fight. You are the only ones who are going to win this battle. Millions of civilizations are watching the events and developments on your planet Earth.

I am grateful to be able to connect today with all of you, Light Warriors. Thank you. Your Victory is within Reach.

Self-Realization, Ascension, and the Soul's Agreements

The Elohim channeled by Asil Toksal - <https://asiltoksal.com>

Greetings. We are the Elohim.

The undertaking of humanity's Ascension process will require all of humanity to understand the greater perspective that can be held within the human form. The self-realization journey always was designed to deliver the expanded states of consciousness that provide insight, understanding, and realizations on all of existence, on life itself, on relationship, on separation, and on unity.

And while this journey of self-realization is intrinsically embedded within all of you, at times it will require conscious choice. At times it will require willpower, dedication, and devotion; knowing and understanding the innate force that drives for your awakening, for your evolution, for your expansion.

And in this journey of self-realization, you will witness the challenges that arise within the barriers of conditioning, the barriers of societal structures, the barriers that are established by the many lifetimes lived, by the many experiences had, yet unprocessed; incomplete.

These barriers will indicate themselves as internal resistance, as internal challenge; at times, as internal pain. The conflict within, the conflict without, is all an indication of the barriers towards the self-realization of the individual. No conflict exists without this barrier established; energy moves, consciousness expands.

And as you discover these barriers, you will apply meaning — to understand the barrier itself, to categorize, to structure, to comprehend through the mind — yet these barriers that arise are not meant to be comprehended; are not meant to be understood. They merely are an indication for greater trust, for greater surrender, for greater opening; a knowing that you are on the right path.

You will find temporary relief by avoiding the barriers that arise; you will find temporary peace within. Yet this peace, this alignment that you find temporarily will make itself visible in other forms, as barriers once again. Witness your environment as the divine reflection that it is, to you and to your evolution. Every detail, every word, every thought, and every emotion that arises within you and within your environment is the journey itself.

Self-Realization: Innate Desire of Your Soul

These states of consciousness that are achieved through these transmissions are to support the expansion, the evolution, and the self-realization of your being: the innate desire of your soul, the innately embedded purpose of existence in human form. Allowing yourself to be held within these energies that are provided, for you to witness that you are loved, that you are supported, and that you are held; for the mind to rest, for the heart to relax, and for the body to surrender; for the soul to take precedence, for the essence of your being to emerge, to surface, for the essence of your being to feel all aspects of your life, for the essence of your being to come through you, without the filters, without the barriers, without the censorship, without the flavors of the past, without the expectations of the future.

In this present moment, all that exists is you: a soul-container infused with human consciousness, experiencing the human form for the purpose of evolution. In this present moment, your environment: a mere construct for reflection and greater learning, for greater understanding, and greater realizations of who you are. The soul's agreement, first and foremost, is to supply you with this significant experience in human form, an experience that you have chosen, an experience that has chosen you.

In this choice, the human form will provide a significant area of experiences, relationships, the full spectrum of all emotions, the spectrum of thoughts, the spectrum of bodily experiences, and the spectrum of all that this reality-construct has to offer to you. Rest in comfort, as this is the first and most significant soul agreement. Accept this human form as the choice made, as the brilliance that it carries, as the magnificence that it provides.

Witness, as [through] this acceptance emerge emotions of gratitude, of fulfillment, of presence; witness as the expansion and the opening of your heart encompasses all of your being. This is who you are, and who you can be, at any moment of your life: filled with gratitude, deeply present, receiving and transmitting the life that moves through this plane, the love of creation that holds all of existence together. No resistance in this moment, no conflict in this moment, purely the flow of the love of creation, the flow of existence.

Every Soul Plays a Significant Role

In collaboration with human consciousness, a soul-container chooses specific learnings; learnings that are required for all of consciousness, for human consciousness, to evolve. Every soul plays a significant role as a result of this collaborative agreement. This also is a choice. Soul containers that have experienced many lifetimes, many life-forms, will offer significant and challenging learnings.

As these learnings emerge, the individual does not remember making this choice, making this agreement. The immediate reaction is the observation of the pain of the challenge itself, the immediate desire that arises to avoid the pain, to create meaning and interpretations around this inner conflict and outer conflict, to create a sense of understanding, to cope with the reality that emerges as a result of the agreements made.

Yet as you allow yourself to find this state of silence, these desires of avoidance and resistance disappear, as the pain becomes merely an impulse to be observed, to be witnessed; as the pain becomes a directing force to expand even further, to be fuel for evolution. The innate desire to absolve all agreements ever made is the desire to avoid and find yourself in the immediate comfort, in the immediate familiarity of existence. Yet, as you can see, you can truly find this level of comfort, alignment, and presence without absolving these agreements made — it is merely a state of presence, a state of being that allows you to have the capacity to accept all that is, to observe all agreements and the realities created through these agreements.

Becoming the Single Observer

No challenge seems insurmountable in this very moment. No challenge seems a threat to your existence, a threat to love, a threat to relationships, a threat to the ego construct. In this state of being you become the single observer, encompassing all of life. In this state of being there is nothing to achieve, nothing to accomplish, nothing to solve. It is merely you: the greatest observer of your existence, in its most powerful state of being.

As you find yourself more often in these states of existence, in these states of observation, the barriers discovered through the agreements made will dissolve, one by one. The pain that was once resisted will no longer be required to point you in a direction. The suffering that was once had will no longer emerge, as the interpretations and the meanings associated to the barriers discovered will dissolve.

This is the path of self-realization. This is the path to fulfilling the soul's agreements, all agreements ever made to support your evolution and the evolution of consciousness in human form, the collective receiving the benefits of your existence. And for many generations, humanity has learned in this particular way, and through this particular construct.

New Agreements of Ascension, Self-Realization, Evolution of Consciousness

And while there are an infinite number of learnings still to be had, an infinite number of learnings unprocessed and incomplete, the time for humanity's evolutionary process through Ascension from this construct to a new construct of existence has come. And while these soul agreements have served you and all of humanity, a new agreement will take its place, to serve the Ascension process of humanity. All other agreements will remain, yet will no longer be the primary driving force of your life. If you choose to, the result will be a transformation of your mind, a transformation of your heart and your emotional states, a transformation of your body and its physical states.

Who are you without the agreements that drive your reality? What is to be felt without the agreements, the barriers, the reactions, and the responses that this reality creates for you? And how will your body adjust to this new prime directive of your existence in human form? Embrace this new construct, this new agreement that will take precedence over all agreements made: the agreement of the evolution of consciousness, the agreement of self-realization, the agreement of the Ascension of humanity.

And this new primary driving force of your life will adjust all other agreements ever made, will adjust your immediate environment, your reality, the habits and behaviors, the emotions and thoughts established, and you will find yourself at ease, relaxing [into] this transformation of your being, and to this transformation of your environment. And at times you will find yourself challenged by the transformation itself, as the dissolution of the ego-construct, the dissolution of emotional constructs, as well as the transformation of this physical form, will challenge the reality that you have known to be.

The reality that you have learned to love — despite its pains, despite its challenges — it has become a familiar home, a reliable experience and environment: reliable to provide the challenges and the pains of human existence, reliable to provide the spectrum of emotions, the spectrum of experiences.

You Will Witness Your Transformation

Can you rest in the unknown? Can you rest in the unfamiliar unfolding of this new reality of your existence? And this transformation will happen, one step at a time, one thought at a time, one emotion at a time, and one moment at a time.

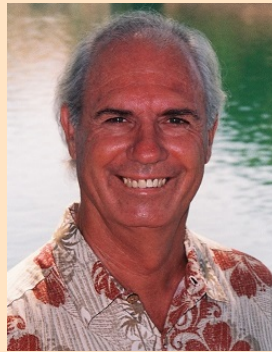

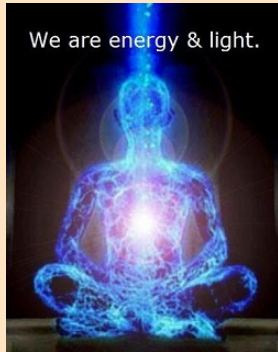

And whenever you find yourself challenged, remember this state of being that you can invoke: a state of being that you can bring yourself into will make the difference in the challenge observed and the challenge experienced. It is the level of perspective that will bring you liberation, freedom, and resolution — and you will witness all agreements chosen, to complete, one after the other.

You will witness the resulting changes of your existence. You will witness the transformation of how you see this reality, and how you see yourself in relationship. You will witness the change of your observation, your mental construct, your actions. You will witness the change of your emotional states, your perception of yourself and your perception of others. You will witness behaviors and habits dissolving as a result of this transformation.

This is the new soul agreement, an acceleration of an embedded truth within your soul. The evolution of consciousness, the self-realization process, and the Ascension process, will become the single primary soul agreement. Thank you for listening to our words.
