

Time to Show the General Public the Truth

Archangel Michael via Erena Velazquez - April 2, 2022

Published at Voyages of Light

My Beloved Souls, I am Archangel Michael, and I want to congratulate humankind on starting to connect the dots on finding the truth behind the deceptions and lies portrayed for a millennial.

The plans of implementing New World Order are failing everywhere globally. The Darkness is losing the grounds despite their efforts to create fear by raising the prices and creating shortages in the necessities. Their goal is to create confusion and distract everyone from the focus of staying in the Light.

Please, don't believe the misinformation told by your media. The truth can't stay hidden anymore. What you are seeing now, it's the end of the era of the elite, who mislead and deprived humanity from living prosperous and happy lives.

You are Light and carry God within you. Nobody can't stop your evolution into 5D. Right now, only a small percentage of humanity is ready to move to New Age. This situation can change instantly, if the ones, who work behind scenes, are going to disclose finally the truth.

The time has arrived to introduce to the general public, what has been occurring around the world. The ones, who are still asleep, need to be exposed to the real truth, not illusion. The Cosmic Energies are very high on your planet, which are perfect conditions to help awake more people.

Only the truth can set everyone free. Please, release all of the negative emotions and open yourselves to receive Love and Light from the Cosmic Universal Consciousness. Now, you can manifest and create anything you desire, and just trust yourself that you are capable to be a creator.

Everyone on Mother Earth is a powerful being. The goal of the Darkness was to make you weak and doubtful about your origins. All souls came here from many different Stars, Universes and Galaxies to free this part of Milky Galaxy. Each day you are getting closer and closer to the day, when you are going to see the Golden Age.

Recent events in Ukraine exposed a lot of the truth, who really is the Light, and who is the Darkness. Follow the natural flow coming from the Cosmos. I, Archangel Michael, send my Love and Courage to everyone. Remember you are not alone. Billions are cheering for your planet. Thank you, Universal Channel. You are almost there, be patient and loving to each other. Archangel Michael.

The Liberation of Planet Earth

With loving greetings from all souls at this station, this is Matthew. Earth's energy field of potential is showing that light-filled streamers, albeit still zig-zagging, have attained unstoppable momentum. This welcome development, which puts the light's progress right on target, is due to the magnitude of cleansing during your past several weeks.

Russia-Ukraine & World Events

For decades the Rothschild faction of the Illuminati, now known more commonly as Deep State or the cabal, has centered its activities in Ukraine. Those include controlling governments of countries in the European Union, production and storage of bio-and chemical weaponry, money laundering, computer hacking globally, propaganda in social media, sex trafficking, pedophilia, and imprisoning people for satanic rituals. Individuals in the United States and other countries also are heavily involved financially, personally or both.

Russians didn't go into Ukraine to conquer the country. They went to destroy hundreds of placements where those aforementioned activities were entrenched. When any could be handled in residential or business areas, that's where Illuminati hid them.

We heard from Nirvana's monitors of Earth that containers of deadly bio-warfare were stored in the basement of the hospital that mainstream media repeatedly publicized. Extraterrestrial special forces in intelligence agencies—who also learned locations of the placements—told us Vladimir Putin's double notified Ukrainian President Zelensky to evacuate the hospital because it was going to be bombed and why. Zelensky, an Illuminati puppet, didn't heed that warning.

The fighting has been a great sadness for troops and civilians in both countries—their shared Slavic roots go back centuries. Not many people know the purpose of the invasion, much less that after ground troops rescued more than 1000 people to be used in the rituals, they exploded the tunnels where they had been held captive. Ridding your world of those deep pockets of evildoing was essential—it is what enabled light forces to get back on target and hasten the day when the planet will be free of all darkness.

As for Putin's double, he had been ready for some years while Illuminati were trying to kill Vladimir because he refused to work with them. The double had a little plastic surgery, practiced speaking and behaving like Putin, and during the time he was avoiding crowds, he listened to his speeches. When the assassination attempt two years ago was successful, the double was ready to step in, looking and acting so much like Putin that no difference was noticeable. After a short time of following orders, he started working with the light forces. You could say he "saw the light" and be correct. To be more explicit, though, what he did was respond to the inpouring of feminine energy's high vibrations that are nudging consciousness to follow soul level guidance.

Another matter you have asked about is "stealth omicron." This so-called sub-variant of covid is the officially-given diagnosis of people who become ill or die from ingredients in the solutions falsely called vaccines. It's also part of the agenda to establish the public mindset that the "pandemic" is here to stay and semiannual booster shots will be necessary.

Individuals who planned this crime against humanity and still are among the living are making a fortune from the billions spent on "vaccines." If we knew when the truth about all of this will come forth, we would shout it from your rooftops.

Like Attracts Like

Now then, we know it is difficult to grasp that everything in existence throughout this universe is energy fluctuating at one frequency or another and that energy is cosmic consciousness. Possibly it is just as difficult to perceive yourselves as so powerful that simply by thinking of something, you set into motion its manifestation.

It may be easier to understand like attracts like, the universal law of attraction that is in constant operation. But it's also easier to forget that law can't distinguish what you do want from what you don't want—it simply brings back to you from the collective consciousness what is most similar to your thoughts. If those are about mainstream media reports, which are rife with devastation, despair and dire predictions of what may be in store, that is what you are helping to continue or initiate.

Dear ones, you can feel compassion for everyone affected by adverse circumstances without concentrating on images and thoughts about what they are enduring. What will help change those circumstances is thinking about what you want your world to be. Peaceful. Everyone prospering. Wise honorable leaders. Just laws and regulations. A society that respects diversity. Benevolent treatment of all animals. A healthy, beautiful environment. Kindness, cooperation, helpfulness. In short, life with love as its foundation.

A number of you have asked if meditation really is helping in that respect. Yes, indeed it is! Individually, in a local group or computerized gatherings or by agreement for a global mediation time, visualizing and focusing on the glorious world you want definitely is helping that come into being. The ability to "move mountains" is not a fantasy—you have innate abilities to accomplish marvels!

Education in the Future

Parents and teachers who have expressed dissatisfaction with educational systems describe them as "deficient," "stifling the development of thinking, reasoning minds," "worthless," and one mother wrote: "Many of us are distressed about our children's education. Can Matthew give us any encouragement about improvements in the future?" Before we reply, let us say this: When we have been asked what we think will be most effective in opening minds and hearts, we say education.

Yes, absolutely we can offer encouragement. The major changes, which will be implemented in stages, will take time but it is a good start that some parents are speaking out about what they want their children to be taught in schools. Although opinions now are in opposition, consensus will come when the truth about your educational systems emerges.

Long ago the Illuminati decided they could more easily control the masses if schooling was only what they wanted the peoples to know. The present-day generation is weakening as each day passes; however, the textbooks they have published for all age levels still contain only what they want known, so the learning-teaching-learning cycle is rooted in a great deal of disinformation and the omission of a great many facts.

Therefore, new textbooks with authentic, thorough information about national and world history and all the sciences will be needed, and since language studies will be offered starting with kindergarten, books at elementary level also will be needed. Writing, printing and distributing all those books for all ages in all languages will be a gargantuan task, but many hands will participate to accomplish that as quickly as possible. Ancient records will be brought forth and myriad recent sources of accurate information are available—all of that material will facilitate preparation of new books. Documentary films and the Internet also are educational tools, and wherever their information is wrong, it will be corrected.

New editions of holy books will contain only original records. They show the commonality of all religions' teachings about the Supreme Being of this universe, the divinity of every soul and the power of love.

You may wonder what will be done with the multimillions of textbooks. A copy of each will be put in a building in every country that wants a museum of the printed history of Earth, and all other copies except those that are personally owned will be recycled to produce their replacements. The museums also will house a copy of novels, biographies, autobiographies, mysteries, true adventures, recipes—well, the spectrum of genres and subjects—and a selection of the world's newspapers and magazines. One wing of each museum will contain a theater and selected movies because those, too, are records of what has influenced societal behavior and beliefs.

Now back to schooling. Just as what is taught will change, so will how it is taught. Students at all grade levels will be encouraged to talk about what they are learning, and that will extend way beyond books. From kindergarten onward participation in the arts will be emphasized and materials or instruments will be provided. All forms of art—music, writing, painting, dance, sculpting, weaving, acting, photography, landscaping, clothing design, architecture, ceramics, and no doubt other forms we aren't thinking of at this moment—are expressions of the soul.

Also starting in kindergarten, some classes will be outdoors so the youngest students learn to respect all life forms. They will plant and properly tend to gardens of flowers and vegetables and help care for the "wild" and domesticated animals that live at the schools so students can observe the species' interaction and their varied learning processes. Age-appropriate field trips and films of natural life in distant lands and in the seas will supplement personal experiences.

Exercise will be recognized as an important part of maintaining health in mind, body and spirit. The "kill 'em" approach to team sports will change to competition wherein each member is helped to achieve her or his potential, and sports that can cause brain injury will be modified to eliminate damaging aspects. Students who have no interest in team sports can engage in whatever exercise they wish, and short periods of solitude and silence will follow physical exertion.

Studies in other countries similar to your student exchange programs will be available to all who desire, and no child will be denied education beyond high school because parents can't afford the expense. The new global economy will include free or affordable schooling for every child, and it won't be by taxation. Learning devices with emissions that are damaging to brain cells will be redesigned to assure user safety.

Not all children will want to be scholars until they acquire a master's, PhD or other advanced degree. Many will have aptitudes and talents in mechanical, technical or technological fields or the many forms of art, construction, farming or food preparation. So some schools will provide training in each of the specialty interests along with courses for well-rounded knowledge, and children who are especially gifted intellectually will attend schools where they can progress as rapidly as they need to keep their interest high.

Preparatory courses for teachers and university graduates who choose that profession will include a new kind of evaluating students' progress and summarized versions of new texts in addition to books for themselves and their students. There will be no rigid protocols for teaching at any grade level. Persons who have mastered specific areas such as animal care, gardening and the various art forms will visit at intervals and always be available to advise. All classrooms will be inviting and vary in size according to the number of students. Rooms for hands-on instruction will be small, films will be shown in theater-size rooms, and student performances—concerts, plays and such—will take place in an auditorium. Not only will teaching be much more enjoyable because students will be happy, eager learners, but teachers will be paid handsomely for their valuable contribution to the society.

How that new basis for schooling will be implemented will differ from country to country. The education principals will start with what meets the greatest needs of the citizenry, then build on that foundation. Everything we have described is blossoming beautifully in the continuum to the grand delight of students, teachers and parents around the world, so you know the future of your educational systems is shining brightly.

Beloved sisters and brothers, so many wondrous changes in everything that affects life on Earth are ahead! If you chose in your soul contract to transition to spirit life before those changes are manifested, from your far higher vantage point, you will feel fulfilled by seeing your children, their children, their children and all generations to come joyously living in the world you helped bring to fruition. All light beings in this universe honor you and support you with the unparalleled power of unconditional love.

Mira of the Pleiadian High Council

Greetings, I am Mira from the Pleiadian High Council. I speak to you today with all the love in my heart. The Creator and I behold you for your powerful presence on the planet earth. Due to your presence, we have made a huge shift in the situation on the planet with the removal of the darkness. We attribute and thank you for this great work that you are doing.

You may have noticed recently that you are feeling increasingly connected to us. This is partly because we are closer to you. We are present in your skies, your thoughts, words, and everything that you are doing. You are first and foremost in our hearts. We are here to address your needs. We work behind the scenes to provide magic and miracles in your lives.

Every day this connection could be some little things such as a beauty in your sky, music, and love in your heart. We are the way showers here to uplift you and to show you the way. We want to acknowledge you and remind you that nothing you do is in vain. It could be your kind thoughts or kind words, your spiritual practices, your reverence for the earth and for each other. It could be your compassion and your open hearts. It might be your holding of the light, truth telling, something nice you do for humanity or for animals. It is all appreciated and needed at this time.

Some of you are wondering how this movie is going to play itself out. We want to reassure you that it is playing itself out and you have nothing to worry about, especially when you remove yourself from fear. The toxic things in your life, including people, need to be cleared and removed. If the energies are no longer appropriate and do not feel right, you must address what you should do about it. If your body responds negatively to something that you consume, it is incumbent upon you to pay attention and remedy the situation. You are becoming increasingly sensitive, and your body will tell you if it doesn't like something or someone. You must listen. This is your guidance. You will do best if you listen.

We are in this ascension process together. You were never intended to do this alone. As I said at the beginning, you have more access to us than ever. There are many plans for our reunions and greater closeness. You will get to know us, and we will get to know you. You will reconnect with your galactic families, and they are excited. We love to celebrate, and we are anticipating many celebrations with you.

If you go out at night, or during the day, you will feel our presence. You might see our ships. There is an element of excitement in the air and in the sky. Come and use some of your greater telepathic gifts to reach us and we will respond back. A little practice makes it even easier. You can do it.

Know that we are with you and that we will complete our missions. You will live in the golden light and the Golden Age on earth. I send you love and gratitude from all of creation. Mira.

“Right now you are living on a planet with the empty nest syndrome. This applies to the earth because many of her children have been off the mark and can no longer remain in her domain. She has been longing for this moment of the great awakening in tandem with the departure of those who have misbehaved. The earth is as sensitive as you are, so she feels everything. She wants to awaken the sleeping ones, and the other ones she wants to shake off and out of her body. She embraces the ground crew.

The fire of her divine feminine energy is rising to the surface with huge emotional outbursts. She is gentle, yet strong. She will no longer tolerate past behaviors because her consciousness has risen. The earth desires peace and well-being. It is her intention to return to balance and harmony. This can only be done while living in higher consciousness. There will be no more excuses for the horrific imbalances. We in the Light Alliance are assisting the earth so that the Golden Age is completely anchored into the earth and into your lives. We are excited about our long-awaited reunion with you.”
